

GIFTS FOR WOMEN CHIEF GERMAN LOOT

Feminine Apparel Attracts Officers in Enemy's Country. Naval Affairs Taboo.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—The neutral correspondent of the Times, who returned a short time ago from Germany, describes "the new German attitude toward other nations." This attitude is shown, he says, among other things by the conduct of the soldiers. He quotes an American whose knowledge of military affairs is above the average as saying that the modern German officer is a combination of soldier, blackmailer, and burglar.

The writer adds: "What would be thought of officers of any other army who entered private houses and stole first of all feminine underwear? Yet there is hardly an officer's family in Germany whose women today are not proud to relate that 'Cousin Fritz' or 'Uncle Heinrich' sent them a gift of lingerie." The writer admits that a minority of the officers of the old school disapprove of this practice and as far as possible prevent it and punish their subordinates for looting.

While the correspondent found that it was comparatively easy to get in touch with military affairs anything to do with the navy was carefully concealed. It is impossible, he says, for a neutral to enter Kiel or Wilhelmshaven. He heard of prodigious activity in connection with the navy but it was impossible to ascertain the nature of this activity. He confirms previous reports that submarine achievements have disappointed the public and says he heard whispers that it was difficult to get men to serve on the submarines.

On the other hand, he found the public pleased with the work of Zeppelins, which they say have greatly improved in speed, method of rising and in general effectiveness.

ANNAPOLIS STAR TO JOIN NAVAL RESERVE

Ralph B. Strassburger, formerly of Football Fame, Volunteers, and Will Stand Test.

Ralph B. Strassburger, former Annapolis football star and prominent among the younger advocates of "national defense," has volunteered his services in the new naval reserve. He will take the examination before the board in charge of that branch of the service at an early date.

Mr. Strassburger, a director of the Navy League, suggests that football players and other athletes of collegiate fame, should enroll themselves in the national defense movement and form a special reserve.

When Secretary Daniels first instituted inquiries as to the whereabouts of and addresses of former naval officers and men in this country, Strassburger was one of the first to come forward for consideration. He is receiving information that plans had been completed for the formation of the reserve, he at once wrote, requesting that he be given examination for listing as soon as possible.

Strassburger entered Annapolis in 1900, where he won fame as a football player. In 1905 and 1906 he was attached to the President's yacht, Mayflower, and in 1908 he particularly distinguished himself when a bomb blew out on the trial trip of the North Dakota, risking his life to shut off the steam, which saved the vessel from serious accident. In 1909 he resigned from the navy and entered the diplomatic service as a consul general to Roumania. Since 1912 he has been active in politics.

OFFICIAL EMBLEM OF CIVIL WAR DAYS

Instead of having its blue background studded with forty-eight white stars as is the case today, the official flag of the United States during the days of the civil war bore thirty-four and thirty-five stars. This flag, with its thirty-four stars, was the official emblem until July 4, 1863, after which date another star was added for West Virginia.

The flag has been loaned to the grandstand committee of the Grand Army encampment by Mrs. Henry Robbins, of the Sherman apartments.

Boy Spurns Father For His Stepfather

Heir to $1,500,000 Tells Court He Prefers Mother's Second Husband.

WHITE PLAINS, L. I., Aug. 22.—"I want to live with my father Lee," said William Crossman Mills Lee in court here, when he was asked to choose between his stepfather, T. Frederick Lee, of South Broadway, and his father, William Mills, Jr., of Venice, Cal. The boy, who is fourteen years old, inherited $1,500,000 from the estate of his mother, Mrs. Georgia Crossman Mills Lee, who died in Manhattan several months ago.

Mrs. Lee divorced William Mills, Jr., and married T. Frederick Lee. Mrs. Lee inherited a fortune from her father, William Crossman, a coffee importer of New York city. She left $500,000 to Mr. Lee and named Mr. Lee and his mother, Mrs. Kenyon Lee, as guardians of her son. The child's father seeks to gain custody of the boy. The child's choice was made before Justice Tompkins at the last of several hearings.

"Do you want to live with Mr. Lee and your grandmother Lee or your uncle, Mr. Crossman, or Mr. Mills, or your grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Mills, in New Rochelle?" asked Mr. Taylor. "I want to live with my father Lee and my grandmother Lee, where I am living now," the boy replied. The court reserved decision.

RAILROADS TREATED UNFAIRLY, HE SAYS

Chairman Peters Objects to Government Shipping Money by Parcel Post.

Another complaint of alleged unfair treatment of the railroad in the matter of railway mail pay has been lodged by Chairman Ralph Peters, of the railroad mail pay committee, following the action of the Treasury Department in dispatching money shipments to the national banks and to the subtreasuries by mail instead of by express.

In a formal statement Mr. Peters declared that the express companies have heretofore received an aggregate of half a million dollars for performing this service, and that half of this sum, or $250,000, was paid to the railroad for transportation services. With this matter being sent by parcel post, he declared, the railroads and express companies will receive nothing.

The express companies, he points out, are relieved of service, but the railroads still have to perform the transportation service whether the money is sent by mail or express, but will receive nothing for this service.

This condition will prevail until the next mail weighing, he says, and when then, pay will be inadequate under the regular mail rates.

ASKS TRIP AND MAID OF CONSCIENCE FUND

Woman Writes McAdoo for Share of $10,000 to "See America First."

Another applicant, this one from Missouri, has turned up to ask a share of the $10,000 contribution to the conscience fund recently received by the Treasury Department. Secretary McAdoo's mail has divulged the following letter, signed by a woman:

"I am seeking a line to town me across to the California Exposition. I inclose clipping which tells of an unknown person sending a large amount of legal tender to the United States Treasury because they at some former time had pilfered it. I now have with my nervous I'm scared at my presumption, hand implore you custodians of windfall gold reserve to deposit to my benefit a liberal sum, say $10,000, for my going to 'see America'—travel spending money. I must have a maid with me, and I desire to take first class ferry round-trip ticket. Answer in special delivery letter."

DON'T USE COCOANUT OIL ON YOUR HAIR

Or Anything That Must Be Washed Off.

The scalp is not like other skin on the body that can be thoroughly cleansed with soap and water. The scalp contains a hair germ that must be treated with respect.

All soaps and everything that foams contains alkali and alkali dries up the scalp. Don't use them. Dandruff comes from too dry a scalp. The most sensible way to treat your hair is to thoroughly brush it once a day to keep it clean. Then use Speiser's Scalp Tonic after brushing to give your scalp that life and health which produce glossy hair. Speiser's Scalp Tonic corrects any abnormal condition of the scalp, kills dandruff, and relieves itchy and irritated skins. But even Speiser's Scalp Tonic cannot do the best work against the persistent use of soaps, perfumed oils, cocoanut oil, and patented concoctions that must be washed out of the hair to make your head presentable in public. Speiser's Scalp Tonic is for sale only at O'Donnell's Drug Store at 50 cents and is absolutely guaranteed by them in every respect. —Adv.
